VOLUME IV. NUMBER 47 THE GOLD CENTER NEVADA CITY, NEVADA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA. THE COUNTY SEAT PAPER NOVEMBER 7, 1930

POLITICAL COLUMN

The mountain counties are rejoicing in the election of C. F. Curry to congress to follow in the footsteps of his illustrious father who passed away recently. Mr. Curry will represent the Third District which comprises Sacramento, San Joaquin, Yolo, Napa, Salano and Contra Costa counties.

The Nugget and Nevada county extends greetings to Mr. Curry and wishes him the wonderful following enjoyed by his father in the years of his labors in Congress in the interests of his beloved state.

The defeat of Inman for Congress is the second defeat by the leaders in opposition of the Hydraulic Bill. Fred Noyes of Yuba City who was the leader in the Assembly against the bill was defeated in the August primaries.

The same primaries saw Jerry Seawell gloriously returned to the Assembly, ready again to make a fight for the mining industry which so nobly came to his support in the election.—By the way—he plans to spend several days here soon for the purpose of discussing with the mining men proposed legislation in the interests of the mining industry and the men employed therein.

So Ruth Hannah McCormick's many thousands were spent in vain, and the senate is denied the honor of seating a woman from Illinois.

Well at least it did some good as a few of the dollars went to sweet charity.

A dramatic figure that will be missing from the senate this year will be Senator Hefflin, of Alabama. At least he will be able to get an excellent job on the Chautauqua or the vaudeville stage—but who is there in the Senate who can take his place in making prohibition prohibition speeches. How the gallery will miss him.

Democratic control of Congress assuages an even more diffiult year for President Hoover than before. Wilson was in a similar position when as president he had a republican congress.

We wonder how Milton K. Young feels over Rolph's landslide. At the Democratic Central Committee's meeting in his address he said: "I am as sure of my election as governor of this state as I am that you are seated in those seats." My! My!

January first will see "Sunny Jim" governor of the Golden State. A man of the people and for the people. We predict that he will be one of the most popular governors the state has ever seen.

Did you read Will Rogers in Wednesday's Sacramento Union. In closing, he says: "Just raid the national treasury enough and you will soon be referred to as a "statesman." Now you have the secret of Harry Engelbright's popularity.

STRIKE RICH ORE IN PYRAMID LAKE DISTRICT

According to J. R. French, miner, who has been working in the Pyramid Lake district, just across the line in Nevada, states that district is coming to the front rapidly and is making a stir in the mining world. "The entire district runs heavily to silver' said Mr. French "and one of the biggest strikes made recently is on the property opened up by the Logan Brothers.

Horn silver ore that runs 600 to 700 ounces to the ton has been opened in an incline shaft at a depth of only about 25 feet. A car load of this high grade stuff is on the dump but I understand it will not be shipped until silver goes up in price as every one seems to think it will. The incline was sunk opposite to the vertical shaft and is going down on the hanging wall side of the vein. The values are all secondary, but sulphide ore of good grade has been opened up in a winze sunk from the sixty foot level of the mine shaft. At this point the vein is well under the mountain and the drift gives considerable backs.

BALD MOUNTAIN MINE INSTALLS NEW EQUIPMENT

Rushing Work in Preparation For Steady Run this Winter

The famous old Bald Mountain Mine at Forest has resumed operations and are working eight to ten men revamping the property and pushing the work to the limit in an effort to get everything ready for the winter.

The Bald Mountain is now owned by the Nevada Monarch Gold Mining Company of Los Angeles. F. W. Powers is the president and general manager of the company and Mf. Scott is superintendent. "We have resumed operations in a limited way getting everything shaped up and all ready for winter" said Superintendent Scott while in the city last Monday. "The fact is we are rushing things so as to get all set before it starts in to snowing. We have completed the building of a new road which was made necessary for the hauling in of our new machinery; erected a new mine building 48x72 feet at the mouth of the tunnel that will be used for the storing of supplies for the winter, besides doing a vast amount of other work to put the property in shape for the winter's run."

One of the largest tasks the company has to face is the transporting and erecting about a hundred tons of new machinery, all of which is to be hauled from Nevada City. This machinery has been ordered from San Francisco and will be carried as far as this city by rail. From here on to its destination it will have to be transported by trucks. The new equipment consists of a complete new hoist; compressor and air pipes along with tools and other material to fully equip the property in a first class condition.

As soon as the preliminary work is finished, sinking will start as the the company expect to cut the famous old channel that has given up millions in the past, at about the 600 foot level. In addition to the old channel the company has exceedingly promising quartz ledges and a new adit 1,400 feet in length will be run for the purpose of tapping these veins and opening up new placer ground from which the new owners confidentially exepect to take out at least several million in values. The quartz claims are five in number and give showings of high values in gold. The ledges have been traced with open cuts and shallow shafts for more than a mile in extent. The old placer channel has produced over four million dollars in gold and much of it, as yet, has never been fully worked.

The reopening of this old bonanza is only one more instance of men who have vision, courage and the backbone to get in and dig where the assurance of success lies plainly before them.

EMPIRE MINES PROPERTY SOLD TO THE FIOLI INC

During the past week two deeds covering the conveyance and title to the property of the old Empire or Eureka Lake and Milton placer mines was filed in the county recorder's office. The property stands on the records of this county in the name of the Empire Mining Company and W. B. Bourne..

The deeds were executed by the Empire mines and W. B. Bourne and wife to the Fioli, Inc., a holding corporation. The property affected includes the water rights, ditches and reservoirs appurtenant thereto formerly owned by the Northern Water and power Company and which evidently has never been conveyed to the Nevada Irrigation District.

There were also conveyed to Fioli Inc., the mining properties formerly known as the Eureka Lake and Milton Mining company property and stood in the name of the River Mines company.

BONANZA GOLD MINE MAKES CLEANUP AT OMEGA PLACER

Lack of Water Curtails the Output But Season's Run Yields Good Profit From Operations—Mine is Enlarging Capacity to 10,000 Yards a Day

The Bonanza Gold Mines Corporation, operating the Omega placer on the South fork of the Yuba river twenty-two miles southeast of this city report that washing operations have been temporarily suspended and the entire crew has been put to work at the company's saw mill says the Nevada Miner.

Charles Moore, president of Bonanza Gold Mines Corporation, recently visited the property and after a conference with William R. Price, engineer in charge, decided to immediately take steps to increase the water supply for the coming season. It is the intention of the management to increase the daily yardage capacity from 5000cubic yards to ten thousand and a suitable amount of flume repairs are necessary.

The company is fortunate in having an almost inexhaustible supply of standing timber and the saw mill located on the property is so designed that lumber may be produced in the company's own plant on short notice.

The Bonanza company has just completed its season's cleanup and officers of the company are well pleased with the results of the first season's operations. While the amount of bullion recovered is not as much as had been estimated, it is considered very good when the exceptionally dry season is taken into consideration and a substantial net profit has been earned.

The work now being done at the property is designed to double the amount of gravel handled over the course of the coming year and it is the purpose of the management to provide a water supply in excess of that which is needed for operations on a much larger scale during the next season.

Bonanza Gold Mines Corporation is fortunate in that the property is so situated that all debris regulations of the United States War Department have been complied with and no restrictions have been placed on their operations.

In the season just passed the Omega property was stated to be the largest operating gold placer in the state of California and a one hundred per cent increase in the amount of gravel handled should place it far ahead of any such operations in this state. The engineers of the company have designed a system of water supply through the use of flumes that it is believed will be ample and in excess of requirements even in exceptionally dry seasons, and the operating force expects to materially increase the value of next year's production of gold

EASTERN CAPITAL OPENS OLD MINES IN PLACERVILLE DISTRICT

Gold mining around Placerville is reviving according to C. E. Collins, superintendent of the Aladdin Gold Mining o., Ltd. Mr. Collins says that W. B. Holland, mining engineer, is operating the old Pacific and Poverty Point mines, employing between fifty and sixty men and is opening up good ore bodies in both mines. The Pacific mine has a stamp mill and is being developed through a tunnel.

The Poverty Point one of the early discoveries, near the northern suburbs of the town is being developed through a shaft. Harry Payne Whitney, who recently died in New York was said to have been financing Holland's operations.

Mr. Collins, is reopening the old Rising Hope channel mine for the Alladin company and has developed a considerable quantity of gravel on the bench of the river. A cross cut is now being driven which is expected ti reach bedrock at the deepest point. The property is completely equipped with machinery and a washing plant for the recovery of the gold.

CANADIAN MINES HAVE INCREASED GOLD YIELD

The production of gold in Ontario province of Canada, says the Mining Review, was far greater in September than in any previous month. The returns shown was $2,925,589 an increase over August and $1,486,626 greater than the output for the corresponding period of 1929. Nearly all or most of the gold came from the mines in the Porcupine district and Kirkland and further increases in the yield are anticipated. The Lake Shore at Kirkland Lake has enlarged its mill, but production from the Dome mine at Porcupine is expected to balance the scales. The Kirkland Lake mines led in September production with $1,451,358 but Porcupine was a close second with $1,416,358.

TEACHERS HOME FROM ATTENDING INSTITUTE

With reference to the convention at Truckee the teachers speak with approval. The outstanding entertainment of the week is unanimously agreed to be the trip to Lake Tahoe on Wednesday. The people of Truckee bore the financial burden of a halfday trip through the scenic region of which Lake Tahoe is the center. Teacherh of the company who had been through Switzerland declared that the land of Mt. Blanc and Lake Lucerne "has nothing on California" by the way of scenery. The teachers who saw Lake Tahoe and its setting for the first time were profoundly impressed; those of the company to whom this paradisal district was not new, declared

IDAHO—MARYLAND TO USE BRUNSWICK MILL

Rumor has it that the Idaho-Maryland will commence to use the Brunswick mill soon for the purpose of increasing their milling capacity The Brunswick mill is only about a mile away from the Idaho-Maryland and the latter company is said to controll the former. Reconditioning of the Brunswick plant is now under way. The ore is to be hauled by heavy trucks from the Idaho-Maryland shaft to the Brunswick mill and contracts with trucking companies ehave already been mad It is hoped to be able to transport and reduce one hundred tons daily, and by this means more than doubling its daily capacity.

A flotation plant of the air pressure type will also be placed in operation at the Brunswick, partly on an experimental basis.

This arrangement marks a definite step for increased production at the Idaho-Maryland on the basis of what is described as a splendid ore showing and insured stoping for an indefinite period. Whether the two mills will be maintained separately or a consolidation effected later is undetermined.

OPENING OLD BOSS MINE NEAR NO. SAN JUAN

Mr. William Lacklund of North San Juan was a caller at the Nugget office last Monday and incidentally dropped the information that the old Boss Mine, some two miles southwest of North San Juan had been taken over by Harry W. Morris, mining man of San Francisco, but formerly a resident of Nevada County. The San Francisco people have taken a bond on the famous old Boss and already have a crew of several men at work cleaning out the old shaft and making repairs in general.

The preliminary work now under way inludes the unwatering of the 400 foot shaft. The shaft has been retimbered to the water level and the water is being taken out by the bailing proess, a Fairbanks-Morse 25 horsepower engine being used to operate the machinery.

The Boss mine has a record as a producer but has not been operated since 1907 when Leon Sloss and associates of the Alaska Commercial company had a bond on the property.

Morris represents San Francisco people and the mine is to be thoroughly opened up.

The mine is located in a famous old hydraulic district and in days gone by yielded many millions of gold.

CLERKIN HOME BURNS AT FRENCH CORRAL

(Special to the Nugget.)

FRENCH CORRAL, Nov. 6—The Clerkin home one mile from this place was burned to the ground shortly before noon today.

Miss Millie Clerkin was alone at home when the conflagation strted and when she saw the house was doomed turned her attention to saving the barn which was filled with hay. This she succeeded in doing.

Will Clerkin was away from home at Browns Valley when the house burned and Mrs. Clerkins was unable to save any of the contents of the home and house and furnishings were a total loss.

NORTH FORK REOPENS WITH CREW OF 17 MEN

The old North Fork Mine located in the Forest district has been sold to a syndicate of Los Angeles and Denver capitalists and has reopened with a crew of seventeen men, according to information given in to this office.

It is said that they plan to sink a new shaft besides other extensive development of the property and when conditions warrant, probably about next spring, a new mill will be erected on the property. The North Fork mine is a quartz property and holds forth promise of becoming a producing mine again with a minimum of new development work.

JOHN RUBIO IS BLAST VICTIM AT MURCHIE

Struck by Full Force of Hung Shot is Instntly Killed Last Saturday

Another one of those deplorable fatal accidents that happen in mines from time to time occurred at the Murchie mine last Saturday afternoon when John Rubio, aged 34 and a native of Spain, was almost instantly killed from an explosion eminating from a missed hole. As a result Mr. Rubio is dead and William Zanocco of this city is in the Nevada City Sanitarium severely injured. The explosion took place at about 6 o'clock in the afternoon in the 1150 east drift of the Murchie

It is said that the men went to work at about three o'clock in the afternoon. It was known that the hole had missed fire but it had lain so long that it was not believed that it woud go. The two men were warned of its proximity, however, and it is said they did not drill into it. For some unaccountable reason the charge did not explode for more than three hours after it had been ignited before the afternoon shift left their work.

Rubio was directly over the hole when it exploded and received the full force of the shattering explosion.

His face, from the upper lip upwards was completely blown away. His right arm was nearly severed. Both legs were broken and the man's chest and body were litterly peppered with small rock fragments. Recognition of the deceased was simply impossible.

Zanocco, who was standing near by was knocked unconscious by the blast and received injuries to his lower limbs from the flying rocks and debris.

Caribeno Orzalli, who was also working in the drift, happened to be at the station when the blast went off. The force of the explosion extinguished his light and he called for assistance and men from other parts of the mine hurried to the scene of the explosion.

It was immediately made apparent that Rubio, who had received the full force of the blast was beyond all aid. Zanocco who was badly hurt was taken to the station and thence to the surface. Dr. R. F. Werner was hastily called and rendered first aid to Zanocco, who was then brought to the Nevada City Sanitarium by the Holmes ambulance.

Coroner T. M. Harris was notified and went to the mine to make an investigation and take charge of the body, turning it over to W. R. Jefford and Son and it was taken to Grass Valley.

Rubio went to work at the mine about three months ago. Previously he resided in Tonopah and since his employment at the Murchie he has been living at Grass Valley. He is said to have a married sister living in San Francisco and a sister-in-law at Fly, Nevada.

ROLPH CARRIES STATE FOR NEXT GOVERNOR

Mayor Rolph of San Francisco is to be the next governor of California was decided by the voters last Tuesday. The Mayor received the largest plurality of any candidate for the office of governor in the history of the state.

Up to this afternoon (Thursday) the National Congressional election stood—Democrats elected 204 and Republicans the same number—204 making a tie. The Farmer Labor party elected one member and he will have the balance of power.

In five doubtfl Kentucky districts now held by republicans the democrats claim to be leading.

The House is still in doubt but G. O. P. faces heavy loss.

WRIGHT PROBABLY ELECTED

William E. Wright the present incumbent of the district attorney's office is probably elected over Stoll by a few votes. Late Thursday evening he had a lead of 28 votes but this lead may be materially cut down as a number of non-resident votes are still to be counted.

IS IT TO BE A NEW GOLD STANDARD OR THE REMONETIZATION OF SILVER—WHICH?

A few weeks ago The Nugget ran an article on the increasing scarcity of gold and its effect on world commerce.

In the article, we predicted a future re-valuation of the gold standard or gold ounce,. Whether we unintentionally, through our ignorance of high finance touched off a bomb, or whether our article just happened to be oppertune, we do not know, but since that time a great deal has been written on this subject and many men, including senators and other men in high places have spoken openly on this subject and along the same lines as the Nugget article.

And now comes two senators who declare the present gold standard valuation is without doubt the basic cause of the world-wide depression in all lines of productive activity. Within the past three weeks, leading minds of the nation have come out openly and assert that the time has come when the United States must do one of two things—increase the ounce value of raw gold, or as a substitute re-monetize silver. They point to the fact that Germany is advocating the payment of all her war debts in silver, asserting that Uncle Sam and France now own 65 per cent of all the gold in the world and therefore this enormous debt must be paid in silver—or not at all.

As Senator King points out, our gold dollar of twenty years ago purchased 50 per cent more of the same commodities than it does today—therefore, although the actual law-value of gold is the same its actual purchasing value has decreased fully one-half. This great slump in the purchasing power of the gold dollar has brought with it our present world-wide slump in all lines of activity. It is self-evident that the production of gold—our standard of value—has materially decreased in the past twenty years, while our population has vastly increased and the productive activities of not only the United States but of the whole world has leaped ahead to incredible heights.

"We are in the same position" says the Senator," as a man trying to do a hundred thousand dollar business on a capital far too small." The marts of trade today are starving for lack of circulating medium, which, as we all know is the life-blood of commerce. Take away the purchasing value of our medium of exchange and commerce sickens and dies. True, the law-value of our circulating medium, (gold) has been maintained by the government during the past twenty years per capita—but the purchasing value per capita has decreased more than one-half—hence our circulating medium has in reality DECREASED more than fifty per cent. Money, gold or silver or what not, represents a fixed valuation in law, but increases or decreases in its purchasing value according to the law of supply and demand of the article to be purchased.

During the past few weeks France has added more than $19,000,000 to their already vast hoard of gold and the rest of the world—especially England and Italy are demanding to know why? Of course France may be accumulating a "war-chest" and that is what is worrying Johnny Bull and Mussolini but is is our guess that France is simply wise enough to see and realize the trend of events, knowing that present conditions cannot last and Uncle Sam, as arbiter, of the value of the world's supply of gold will be forced to raise the value of the yellow metal per ounce or once more return to the use of silver as a medium of exchange and in either case France, with her "hope chest" overflowing with gold will reap a rich reward.

This entire question is now sure to come up during our next session of congress and whatever is done in the way of raising the value of the gold ounce or the re-monetization of silver means a vast benefit to our local mining district as well as mining in general. Nothing could benefit the mining industry more than a move in the direction of higher values for both gold and silver—and, brother, it's a comin'—take our hunch for that.

A revival of interest in gold mining, due particularly to world hunger for the yellow metal and a general depression in other minerals, is sending the prospector back into the hills and gulleys, says the Calaveras Californian.

The traditional figure of early western history, his accoutrements little changed from the days of the first gold rush is seen again throughout the prospect country of California as a colorful adjunct to the men and machinery of the modern mining corporation.

Now, that election is over, there are several candidates who will have time to split their wife's kindling and maybee carry up the wood.

THANKS!

The Nugget received its first congratulations last week. Our French Corral correspondent opened her weekly letter with felicitations. Just a wee bit premature, but most acceptable. Dear, dear Aunt Kate! So kind and thoughtful always

On November 22, 1926 the initial number of The Nugget made its bow to the world and little did the readers know of the trials and tribulations which attended its birth. The response of the the people of Nevada City and county was indeed gratifying. Since then, the growth of the child has been steady and constant, although hampered by almost every obstacle that could be imagined the little paper soon became recognized as a part of the community and took its place among the things worth while in Nevada county.

COLD KILLS 20 IN EAST WHILE CALIFORNIA BASKS

While the People of Nevada County, California were still basking in the warm October sunshine it was reported in the daily press that at least 20 persons in the mid-west and Canada, had lost their lives directly or indirectly from causes due to the cold since the frigid wave started two weeks ago.

A report has been sent out of continued cold throughout the northern half of the nation and thermometers have dropped to the lowest October temperatures on record, accompanied by chilling winds.

Edmonton, Alberta was the coldest place on the continent, having two degrees below zero weather. Temperatures throughout the Mississippi valley ranged from 18 to 30 degrees above zero.

Snow plows and maintenance gangs have succeeded in digging out stalled freight trains and clearing tracks so that passenger traffic could proceed in Canada.

Many farmers have been ruined in Canada, owing to the loss of wheat crops coupled with the low price. Thousands of acres were burled under huge drifts of snow and never will be harvested.

Though there have been many snow flurries in the Great Lakes district, Chicago escaped a heavy fall of snow.

Among the cities reporting a new low temperature for October were Charles City, Iowa, 18; Madison, Wis., 22; Des Moines, Iowa, 22; Evansville, Ind., 30; Cincinnati, O., 26; and Indianopolis, Ind., 26.

Remember 'way back last summer when the east was parched and scorching? Take a look now—they're having snow and wintery winds blow.

But remember, we had no prostrations from heat, nor hot, torrid days and we won't get any of the snow and ice that tie up traffic which brought suffering and misery.

This section of California is enjoying seasonable temperatures and which we expect to remain with us for the next couple of months.

A COUGAR HELD THE RIGHT—OF—WAY ON JIM

James R. Haskell, travelling man out of Oakland, had a rather queer, and for a time somewht terrifying experience Saturday night of last week while enroute from Downeyville to Nevada City. In relating the story of his adventure, he said: "I got a rather late start out of Downeyville and it soon got dark—awfully dark. You know the road is rather crooked between here and Downeyville and so I wasn't taking chances and was running slow and keeping a sharp look-out for approaching cars coming in the opposite direction. Upon rounding a short curve I saw what at first glance I took for a pair of headlights and slowed down to a crawl. A second glance convinced me that the lights in front were not headlights and I was at a loss to account for the strange glow in the center of the road. By this time my headlights had picked up the object and I was simply scared stiff when I saw, sitting calmly in the center of the highway a monster couger. He wasn't scared a bit—but I'll tell the world I was—a plenty. I stopped the car and there we sat. The big cat wouldn't move and I couldn't. Finely he got up, stretched and yawned, and with a last glare in my direction slowly loped away in the timber. I wiped the presperation from my face and beat it for Nevada City and was thankful there were no speed cops around for I certainly stepped on the trigger from there on in to the city. No more night drives for me—I don't like cougars, especially out in the dark.

ORIGIN OF "BLUE BLOOD"

Although blue blood has never been blue, the term "blue blood" has denoted aristocracy for more than 400 years, and originated in Spain.

Those who claim aristocratic descent are said to have blue blood in their veins, which is meant to be a sort of compliment, in a manner speaking. The fact is, the expression came from Spain, where, after the expulsion of the Moors, who were dark skinned people, Spaniards, who had light skins claimed pure descent from ancesters who lived before the Moorish consuests. The light skins permitted the the blue veins to show more vividly and hence the claim of being "blue blooded."

GOLD? OH NO SAYS FRANCE TO ENGLAND

It is well known that France has been loading her "hope chest" well lined with Uncle Sam's gold which she has been purchasing and hoarding away for the past several months. England, as well as Italy, has been quietly watching the growing heft of this "hope chest" all the time with a speculative eye as to its ultimate object. Italy wonders if it isn't a "war chest" but England has been watching from a different view point. During the world war France borrowed immense sums of money from England as well as the United States and now that France has piled up billions of golden wealth England rather forcibly suggests that France repay that loan in gold.

This deman don the part of England has horrified the Frenchmen who loudly disclaim their ability to pay in gold and in no very gentle terms informs England that if they pay at all it will be in silver and gently suggests that poor England will be in big luck if she gets that.

France points out that England has to have silver for the use of India and intimates that silver is good money anyhow.

Things to Remember

To minimize carbon deposits in the motor avoid rich fuel mixture; use grade of oil recommended for that partcnular make of car; do not idle motor; avoil too much oil in crank case; don't run engine when it misses fire; drain and refill crank case frequently.

May Clog Fuel Line

In addition to inconvenience, running out of gas may pave the way for future troubles. Dirt and other materials collect in the fuel tank and in the course of time if the gas in the taink is permitted to get very low, is drawn into the fuel line with the last of the supply and may result in the clogging of the supply pipe.

Adjus your Brankes

Now that winter is approaching, says the Automobile Club of California, extreme care should be taken to see that your brakes are properly adjusted. Adjust your brake bands at the wheel insted of using rod adjustment and you will be far more sure of controlling your car on wet, slippery roads.

Cover up Your Distributor

The distributor should be kept covered up when makin grepairs around th eengine, according to the emergency road service. Small particles of metal may go into the distributor cap and cause a short circuit.

MUGWUMP PROPERTY START OPERATIONS

The Mugwump Mine, sold some time ago to a syndicate of mining men in San Diego, have begun work on the property with a number of men employed. The shaft on the property was down 200 feet and the new owners are preparing to sink another 200 feet where they have every hope of striking the ledge which is their objective. The Mugwump is a highly promising property and with development will pay rich returns. Work is planned to continue all winter.

TEACHERS HOME FROM INSTITUTE

that repeated visits and views of the beauties of Northern California revealed each time glories of color and of contour unobserved by them before; they say that intimate acquaintance with these beauties increases the capacity of the observer to appreiate their grandeur. Human grasp is too limited to absorb at one time all that this locality of splendor has to offer.

There were high spots in the convention which were treated rather briefly in the hasty reports previously published. Among the high hpots was the ardent talke on Thursday by Mr. Kersey, Superintendent, who always has helpful ideas to convey to us; in addition to the helpful ideas ,he radiates from his personality and by his power of oratory, his confidence in the teaching force of California. His address was a fit closing to the session.

The address of Dr. Vaughn, MacCaughey, of the California Teachers' Association, were a source of inspiration to the teachers. Mr. MacCaughey remained throughout Tuesday and Wednesday, addressing the various groups in their respective meetings and also talking before the groups when gathered in General Assembly. Mr. MacCaughey is obviously a student of education in the large sense. His opinions are idealistic and prophetic. He is opposed to the old regime; he is forward-looking; restive of shackles; —in a word,—an innovator. To those why say "What I have is good enough for me."

Mr. MacCaughey's courageous suggestions seemed revolutionay, but to those to whom tradition is not so sacred as in progress, his seemingly radical outlook opened up a vision.

Mr. Leroy Armstrong of the American Book Company; a veteran in the field of Education, during the first morning of the session divided time with Dr. MacCaughey, both gentlemen speaking upon the same topic—Legislative Measures. Though these distinguished men seemed for awhile to differ essentially, the result of their combined talks showed that fundamentally they were agreed. They agreed in principle but disagreed as to details of method.

Among other guests who gave talks must be mentioned Mrs. Ward, Supervisor of Shasta County. The teachers of the Elementary grades were outspoken in praise of the definite help given them by Mrs. Ward. The talk on Correction of Speech, by Miss E. Halsted of Correction Speech Department, was noted as of distinct value. Another excellent talk on the same subject which revealed actual experience and success in results was by Miss E. Janes of Nevada City.

The subjet of Elementary Art was skillfully presented by Miss Doris Nightingale.

The meetings at Truckee were not devoid of gaity. There was music in the air at every general assembly. The music was in charge of Mr. H. George of Grass Valley. Miss Annie R. Gray of Nevada City High School acted as accompanist. Miss Gray added an extra lyric note by way of a pianologue "Annabel Lee" set to music by the reader. Upon the rendition of this number Miss Gray received an encore to which she replied by the recitation of a humorous poem by Joe Lincoln. Miss Gray declined to respond to the second enchore as she did not wish to infringe upon time alotted to Mr. Kersey.

Nevada City Group enlivened the general assembly with "steps in Physical Education," in the form of a dance by three young lady members of the high school faculty—Miss Leschinsky, Miss Whelan and Miss Morris.

The dance was developed from steps taught in Physical Education under direction of Miss Leschinsky and was received with enthusiasm.

An interesting paper on "Benefit of School Clubs" was read by Mr. Kjorlie who has made a study of such organizations.

Method of teaching Current Events was ably presented by Mr. Coates with aid of lantern slides.

A very instructive plan of organized Composition was outlined by Miss Gray.

These activities were on the last day and rather late for former reports but very worthy of special mention.

On the whole the institute was an inspiring success and any one who sought new ideas was afforded the opportunity.

These are the views of

A TEACHER.

ELKS DINE ON LOBSTER

We always knew that an elk, like certain other animals we know of, would feast on 'most anything from a cactus bush to a clothes line, but naturally thought they would draw the line at the lowly lobster. but we were 'mistook'.

Last Thursday evening at the regular semi-monthly feed of Nevada City Lodge of Elks, lobster with many tasty side dishes were served to a gathering of over forty members of the order. Sheriff George R. Carter was chef for the occasion and received much praise for his cullinary efforts. C. R. Clark was chairman and assisted by a number of brother assisted by a number of brother Elks served the feed. The affair was wholly successful and enjoyable.

Jack Williams and Lawrence Ramsey visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Genassi. Mr. Ramsey was a former resident of this city and is a nephew of Charles Genassi.

Telephones—

A FEW decades ago, telephone usefulness was measured by the number of telephones in the subscriber's exchange.

It was a big step forward when these exchanges were linked up, making voice-communication possible from city to city.

Today, the telephone user can call up London, Paris, Berlin — twenty-seven foreign countries in fact, as well as 20 million connected telephones in this land.

Yet, vast as it is, this telephone service is personal to you. Each telephone call is a transaction by itself and each customer is an individual.
